

Employment Opportunity Youth Outreach Worker, Full Time

The London InterCommunity Health Centre seeks a dedicated and passionate Youth Outreach Worker to join our Child, Youth & Families team. Serving youth and their families as a mentor and advocate in the North and East London communities, you will engage “hard to reach youth,” with the ability to build trust easily and see the strengths and capacity in the surrounding community.

We seek a creative, persistent individual with an understanding of positive youth development, outreach abilities, and knowledge of available community resources and supports. You demonstrate an awareness of the effect that oppression, barriers, poverty and diversity have on youth, families and the community and will support other team members to maximize outreach potential.

Working as part of a multi-disciplinary team, the Youth Outreach Worker is a frontline staff member responsible for prevention, early intervention, program development and community outreach services with youth and their families.

Qualifications

- Post-secondary education in a relevant discipline from a community college or university and/or significant experience in health promotion and community development;
- Three (3) to Five (5) years of relevant experience in a community setting working with youth and families from diverse cultural backgrounds;
- Demonstrated ability to reach and engage marginalized youth from priority neighbourhoods in activities that promote assets, competencies and resiliency;
- A proven approach to working collaboratively with youth, parents and community partners / resources to ensure access to programs, services and opportunities;
- Experience organizing, delivering and facilitating workshops/programs and training for youth;
- A commitment to working as a valued member of an interdisciplinary team;
- Awareness and understanding of the social determinants of health and experience working within a health promotion framework;
- Ability to work with diverse communities with respect, confidentiality, sensitivity, competence, creativity, innovation, cultural understanding, and non-judgement;
- Ability to initiate various approaches to problem solving with realistic goals;
- Strong computer skills, including the use of MS Office Products and electronic client records.

This one year full-time contract position requires a flexible schedule that will include evening and weekend hours, commencing January 7, 2019. Applicants are encouraged to apply for this position by forwarding a covering letter and resume by December 3rd, 2018 at 12:00 AM attention to Greg Nash by:

Mail: London InterCommunity Health Centre
659 Dundas Street, London, Ontario, N5W 2Z1
Email: jobposting@lihc.on.ca
Fax: (519) 642-1532

London InterCommunity Health Centre is an equal opportunity employer and committed to hiring staff that reflect the diversity of the clients and community that we serve. Should you require accommodation in making an application please contact our office. We thank all applicants for their interest, only those selected to proceed in the competition will be contacted.

To learn more about the Health Centre visit us online at www.lihc.on.ca, follow us on Twitter @HealthCentre or like us on Facebook – London InterCommunity Health Centre.